GUEST SPEAKER Amy M. Stolls ’87
Amy Stolls is the Director of Literature at the National Endowment for the Arts, where she oversees a national portfolio of grants to literary publishers and presenters; fellowships to creative writers and translators; and large initiatives including Poetry Out Loud, a recitation program for high school students, and the NEA Big Read, which promotes community-wide reading. With 20 years of experience in the literature field, Stolls has moderated more than 100 panels and has been a speaker at conferences and festivals around the country.

Stolls is the author of the young adult novel Palms to the Ground (FSG, 2005), winner of a Parents’ Choice Gold Award, and the novel The Ninth Wife (HarperCollins, 2011). PHI BETA KAPPA Phi Beta Kappa is a national honorary organization for outstanding undergraduate students of liberal arts and sciences. As the oldest and most exclusive honor society in the country, only 10 percent of colleges have chapters.

Outstanding students from all curricula are eligible for election to Phi Beta Kappa in either the junior or senior year. Membership criteria are established by the local chapter, not by the College. In addition to meeting the requirements of their degree programs, students should demonstrate breadth in their course work and a commitment to liberal learning. More specifically, the chapter takes into account grade point average, advanced level courses outside the student’s major, and the study of mathematics and foreign language. Admission to Phi Beta Kappa is always at the discretion of the chapter and membership is gained only by election. Students invited to join Phi Beta Kappa this spring include:
